Our Service

Lean Process

Lean Process is a consultation using the concept of operational process management of the organization in every process for maximum efficiency without wasting by cutting off any activity that is useless in vain or not adding value to workflow, production or service away. The counselor will help to promote understanding and create a correct attitude. Then, together, analyze the current state of the organization, plan the work systematically Set improvement goals and recommend the use of various improvement tools.

Gap Analysis and Pre-audit

Gap Analysis is an initial assessment to find the difference between the current system of the organization and the requirements of the standard to be created. Which will know what to do more to comply with the requirements of the standard. Pre-audit is a preliminary audit to see if the readiness of the currently established or maintained system is compliant with the requirements of the established standards or the customer's requirements. Before the actual assessment from the certification institute. The consultants of Splendid Consultant have all been Lead Auditors before, so they can help point out the key points that the Auditor will audit.

Inhouse Training

We provide training services within the organization or Inhouse Training. We have consultants who are experts in ISO systems or other quality systems such as GMP / HACCP, business management systems, finance, marketing, training on human subjects. And information technology management systems, etc. In the training, we focus on training as well as organizing Work Shop activities to enable participants to understand the content of the teaching, as well as to enhance the application of the work.
